Learning Proverbs

name :

Read aloud these proverbs related to agricultural culture.

여름에 하루 놀면 겨울에 열흘 굶는다.

For one day you slack in the summer,
ten days you will go hungry in the winter.

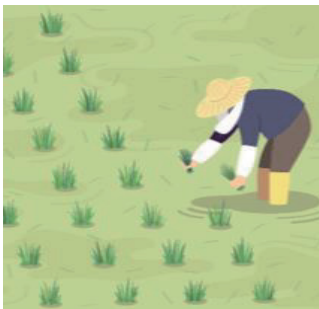

(If you are lazy now, you will face difficulties later in the frosty winter.)

오뉴월 손님은 호랑이보다 무섭다.

A guest in May or June is scarier than a tiger.

(May and June are the busiest times for farming, so it's difficult to entertain guests during these months.)

좋은 농사꾼에게는 나쁜 땅이 없다.

There is no bad land for a good farmer.

(A diligent and hardworking person doesn't make excuses based on conditions.)
